

HE RODE WITH HARRY

A Gentleman Found Who Journeyed to Cincinnati with Harry Hill.

HENRY JENKINS STABS TWO PEOPLE

The Trial of the Blackstocks—Two Young Jailbirds Escape—Other Items of News in Police Circles.

A gentleman who sat on the seat beside Harry Hill on that mysterious and hasty journey between Atlanta and Chattanooga last Friday afternoon is justly entitled to a place among the newspaper celebrities of this week. This gentleman was found by Chief of Police F. W. Hill, of Chattanooga, and he says that Harry enjoyed the trip splendidly.

When Harry left Atlanta his luxurious nature, which had necessarily been kept in abeyance during his imprisonment, asserted itself and he took a berth in the luxury seat and serenely contemplated the whirling landscape.

He patronized the buffet and beguiled the journey with other things than fragrant cigarettes. He was at the least half nervous, and had no hesitancy in speaking of his destination and his future plans. He said he was going to Cincinnati, but did not speak of his plans after reaching that city.

Harry was not caught in Chattanooga for the reason that he did not go into the central depot. The Western and Atlantic connects with the Queen and Crescent a few miles out of Chattanooga at Boyce Station, and here Harry got on the train to Cincinnati. A detective was waiting for him at the union depot. But it is probable that he would not have been caught if he had ridden into the heart of the city, as the telegram received by the Chattanooga police contained no description of him.

Henry Blackstock, a lanky black negro, has started "round the mountain" in the local phrenology of the negroes. Yesterday morning he started and conducted a lively cutting affray on his own account, and when he stopped he had stabbed two people bad enough to have himself bound over to the superior court for stabbing.

It seems that Jenkins's actions were without excuse. He went to a house on Butler street and engaged in a quarrel with negro by the name of Max Small. He drew his knife and stabbed Small in the thigh, inflicting a painful wound. He then took his attention to a negro woman in the house who attempted to pneumonia with him. He was arrested by Patrolman Dukes and bound over by the record.

They Were Fired.
J. J. and M. M. Blackstock, the two brothers arrested for creating such a lively disturbance on Main street Saturday afternoon, were tried yesterday afternoon and fined $100 and costs each. The gentleman who was bitten on the cheek by one of the young men said he had no desire to prosecute the case.

The young men, who were the first to find that they had an interest, and asked the recorder to deal lightly with them. Sergeant Ozburn requested that the case made against Bill Sutton for interfering with the officers while the arrests were being made be dismissed, as he had found out that he had nothing to do with the interference.

Charles Tate and John Smith, two young negroes, escaped from the city stockade yesterday morning in a few hours after were located in a house in the eastern part of the city. Tate and Smith took refuge in a room, the doors and windows of which had been strongly barricaded, and, although only thirteen years old, he defied Patrolmen Whately and Lanford to enter. The officers forced the door in with an ax and arrested the two negroes. Recorder Bill sent out two summonses to the Rockdale to bring them in.

Two of Captain Wright's men yesterday arrested Jesse Perkins, a negro, on the charge of stealing a quantity of clothing from Mr. Lloyd Lindsey, 21, Waverly place. Mr. Lindsey's clothes were embezzled and the clothing taken some time since. The theft was reported to the detectives and the clothes were recovered and Perkins arrested yesterday morning.

Mr. Robert Jackson reported to the detectives of a theft of a suit of clothes yesterday morning and said that he expected Walter Turner, a negro. Shortly afterward Turner was arrested by a policeman on a charge of drunkenness and seen at police headquarters. He will be held for trial by the detectives.

Fred Turner, a negro, was arrested last night by Patrolman Beavers charged with stealing a number of sacks from a wood yard on Decatur street.

Where He Attempted to Kill Himself After Having Shot His Sweetheart.
Sheriff Tomlin, of Moore county, Colorado, passed through the city yesterday, having with him a young man who is wanted at Emanide, in that state, for murder.

John K. Long was the name of the prisoner, and the offense which he is being taken back to Colorado was a few years ago the sensational story of the world.

Five years ago Long was one of the promising and successful young business men of Emanide, Col., and held the respect and esteem of all of the people, not only of the town, but of the country in which he lived. Near the town was the home of George Dorman, one of the oldest and best known ranchmen of the state. Mr. Dorman went to Colorado years ago and settled a claim which turned out to be on one of the best and most desirable pieces of property in the state. He was a quiet, peaceful man, and was the head of a large family, every one of whom had, like the head of the family, shown thrift and prosperity. Among his children was a daughter of seventeen, who was said to be one of the most beautiful and charming young women of the state. Long was one of the young men of the county who was captivated by the charms of Miss Dorman, and to her he paid his addresses. But for some reason, the young lady was not pleased with the attentions of Long, and she was not slow in letting him know it. Long's love took a turn of desperation, and one evening, about eighteen months ago, he called upon the Waving his retreating wands last night "The Vendetta" opened to fairly good business at the Grand.

The play is new to Atlanta and the south, but it will no doubt meet with agreeable success financially and otherwise.

The company is above the average and will doubtless be a success. The second act, in particular, is the only moderate in design and construction, and could be a great deal better. The scene effect, the real merit of the play principally lies in Mr. W. O. Den, in the dual role of Count Victor Ricard and Mrs. Ricard. The two are well cast and the play will be thoroughly enjoyed. Probably new developments will turn up which will be interesting.

NEW DRUGISTS.

The State Board of Pharmacy Examines and Licenses Ten Young Men.

The state board of pharmacy met yesterday in the library of the department of agriculture and examined a class of sixteen young men. The full board was present, consisting of Drs. John W. Goodwin, chairman; S. C. Durbin, George E. Payne, Harry Short and Mr. R. S. Slack, secretary. Mr. Durham, the member from Richmond, was sworn in by Governor Northeren for a five years' term.

The following young gentlemen passed a satisfactory examination: J. O. Baker, Savannah; E. S. Borden, Macon; J. C. Gillespie, Macon; B. F. Herring, Cordele; R. V. Kelley, Atlanta; W. W. McAfee, Atlanta; Martin Meadows, Macon; J. W. McRae, Atlanta; G. S. Scriven, Atlanta; J. W. Wooten, Atlanta.

Interstate license for best examination was awarded to Mr. Baker, of Savannah.

AFLAW IN THE EAGLE

Got Four Citizens of Douglas County Into Trouble.

DURING A BRIEF VISIT TO ATLANTA

They Had a Fine Time, and Took in the Town—The Misfortune of Their Home-ward Journey—An Officer Appears.

Last Friday four gay and festive citizens from the county of Douglas struck the Gate City, and proceeded to do things in a convivial style. Money was plentiful, and the metropolis had many interesting sights for the sports. They took in all points of interest and got onto things in a hurry. Friday night they went back to Douglas full of fun and spirituous liquor.

There was a chance.

Yesterday morning they returned to Atlanta, but not under the same propitious conditions, for Deputy Marshal Dunlap had them in custody, and four warrants sealed and signed against Butch Pilgrim, Ed Miles, James Jones and Robert Hornebuckle for counterfeiting, caused the men to mourn the destiny of transgressors against society, and run and run.

It seems that for some time nickel and dimes, and now and then five-dollar gold pieces, which didn't bear the authorized government stamp, have been circulated in Douglas County. Therefore, all four of the counterfeiter have proved futile. Friday night, when the train passed Austerl, Pilgrim and Miles "set 'em up" to lunch, paying out 55 cents in counterfeit coin. A flaw in the eagle on a new dime got them into trouble.

Arrests Made.

Word was telegraphed to Marshal Dunlap, and Saturday evening the arrests were made by Deputy Marshal Sibley.

The men, unfortunately arrested, had burned the molds, but owing to the amount of $20, in the house, James Jones and Robert Hornebuckle were left burning going on there. A preliminary hearing was given the counterfeiter yesterday afternoon before Commissioner Broyles. Miles and Hornebuckle were bound over to the circuit court for $500 each.

The cases against Pilgrim and Jones will come up this morning.

BLOODED AND REGISTERED HORSES

Will Be Sold Friday, December 1st, at the Brady-Miller Stables.

There will be a special sale of standard and registered blooded horses at the Brady-Miller stables, Atlanta, Ga., Friday, December 1st, at 10 o'clock a. m. For this sale, Messrs. Ferguson and Turney, of Cynthia, Ky., the well-known dealers in, and breeders of blooded stock, have consigned to the Brady-Miller Company at Atlanta, one carload of registered horses of fine style, splendidly gaited. Among the lot, special attention should be paid to No. 10, in the catalogue. The great young horse Haylin, by Simons 2744, is by George Wilkes 600. This young horse is bred in the purple and is fit to head the stud of any establishment.

The foregoing mentioned stock, as well as that contained in the entire list, is registered in Wallace's stud book and a certificate of registration will be given to each purchaser on day of sale. Also an excellent opportunity will be furnished to the sale of blooded and registered horses at Atlanta offers the people of this section a splendid opportunity to buy just what they want in this line at a reasonable price. This stock is placed on the market for what it will bring, and as stock of all kinds is selling at unusually low prices just now, it is presumed that the horses offered for sale at the Brady-Miller Company, at Atlanta, Ga., will be no exception.

By all means attend the sale. It is Friday, December 1st, at 10 o'clock a. m.

DECIDE IT TODAY.

Railroad Traffic Managers Will Discuss Free Delivery Here.

LOOKS LIKE IT WON'T PAN OUT

Commissioner Stahlman Doesn't Think Much of Re-establishing It—Mr. Comer, Too, Is of That Mind.

It is highly probable that the question of free delivery in Atlanta by the railroads will be settled today at the meeting of the traffic managers of the various roads.

The sentiment of the railroad men, from what they are willing to say and to quote on, is decidedly against the re-establishment of the free delivery system. Receiver of the Central, stands out against it, and Commissioner Stahlman is on record as opposed to the free delivery.

The question of free delivery of freight to the merchants was pushed to an issue by the manifesto of General Manager Thomas, of the Western and Atlantic. The Western and Atlantic railroad had always managed by advantage of situation and control of the tracks back of mail, wholesale houses and manufacturers to maintain a system of free store door delivery. Matters were arranged some years ago between the Western and Atlantic and the other roads so that the use of the Western and Atlantic's tracks were allowed to the less fortunate roads for a certain sum per car tracking.

In the instance of trackage charges the rate was not very high, only $1 a car. The car was hauled upon the sidetracks by the engines of the Western and Atlantic in most instances. The traffic in freight of the road controlled by General Manager Thomas began to fall off to no small extent and it was to be doubted if there was not a general cut in rates by the roads. At any rate Manager Thomas was of this mind, and after considering it, notified the roads holding trackage privileges that he intended to withdraw these after December 1st. A meeting was immediately called for the 20th of this month, but was postponed until today, when the entire business will probably be disposed of.

Commissioner Stahlman has to stay. "There will probably be ten or twelve representatives of the various roads present at the meeting tomorrow," said Commissioner Stahlman to a Constitution reporter. "I do not think to speak frankly that free delivery will be stopped. It would be an additional expense to the roads and would mean a loss of probably $100,000 a year. To re-establish it would be setting a precedent to establish it in Macon, Chattanooga, Rome and other cities of smaller size."

Major Cotttingham and Others.

Major Cotttingham, the general freight manager of the Atlanta and Florida road, will be at the meeting today. In his talk he is rather inclined to oppose any movement towards a re-establishment of free delivery. He thinks, however, that either the Atlanta and Florida will be especially hard hit.

Mr. H. W. B. Glover, acting traffic manager of the Seaboard Air-Line, will probably attend the meeting in the interest of the Seaboard Air-Line. He refused to commit himself on the question and there was nothing to say about free delivery.

Mr. J. M. Culp, assistant traffic manager of the Richmond and Danville, reached home yesterday and will be attended upon the meeting. It is understood that he does not favor free delivery. Others who will be at the meeting today: Mr. Edwin Fitzgerald, traffic manager of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia; A. G. Jackson, general freight agent of the Georgia road; G. R. Knox, general freight agent of the Louisville, Chattanooga and St. Louis; R. K. Knob, vice-president of the Louisville and Nashville; R. E. Lutz, traffic manager of the Atlanta and West Point; Major Shellman, traffic manager of the Cincinnati; H. F. Smith, of the Chicago, Southern; Joseph M. Brown, traffic manager of the Western and Atlantic.

Traveling Passenger Agent Tate Transferred.

R. H. Tate, traveling passenger agent of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, has been transferred temporarily to Dallas, Tex. He may remain there only a short while before returning to Atlanta.

Mr. J. W. B. Glover, at present acting traffic manager of the Seaboard Air-Line, has returned to the city.

GUS ALLEN'S WIFE.

She Pleads With the Police Not to Prosecute Him.

HE HAS BEEN PRONOUNCED CURED

And Now the Asylum Officials Are Ready to Turn Him Over to the Law for Shooting Patrolman Randall.

Once more the police department has been called upon to settle Gus Allen's fate.

Yesterday afternoon a small, fair-faced woman, with sparkling black eyes and jet black hair, accompanied by a venerable, gray-bearded, gray-haired old man with a tall, bent figure, remained at police headquarters for several hours pleading for Allen.

The case has reached a point where Allen must either be taken charge of again by the Atlanta police authorities or set free. The physicians at the state insane asylum at Milledgeville have pronounced him mentally sound and have notified the state authorities that they can take charge of him at any time and put him on trial for shooting and shooting Patrolman Randall.

The case has reached a point where Allen must either be taken charge of again by the Atlanta police authorities or set free. The physicians at the state insane asylum at Milledgeville have pronounced him mentally sound and have notified the state authorities that they can take charge of him at any time and put him on trial for shooting and shooting Patrolman Randall.

The charge has been standing against him since Patrolman Randall swore out a warrant against him for assault with intent to murder immediately after the exciting experience. Allen was kept in jail for some time, acting the part of a man who had been captured and was to be tried for his crime in a skillful manner, and he was taken before Judge Calhoun on a writ of lunacy and committed to the asylum.

Patrolman Randall, who had come near being killed by a bullet from Allen's gun, did not want to prosecute him, and took care that the case for assault was not dismissed. A notable improvement in Allen's condition ensued immediately after he was placed behind the asylum walls, and it was but a short while until he exhibited signs of perfect sanity.

He escaped about two months ago and was recaptured at his home in this city after five weeks of liberty. He was only returned to the asylum about four weeks ago. He has been exceedingly calm since his return and the physicians have pronounced him mentally sound.

Under the terms of his commitment to that institution Allen was to be turned over to the state authorities to be handled for the assault on Randall when he was cured. The asylum officials have signified their willingness to deliver Allen into the hands of the law.

Yesterday his wife and father called on Patrolman Randall at his home and spent two hours with him pleading and entreating him to not prosecute Allen. The patrolman refused his close call at the hands of the committed man and refused to agree to their request, but referred them to Captain Thompson.

They then laid siege to the captain, remaining around police headquarters for several hours. Mrs. Allen pleaded tearfully for her husband's release, and she should never give the Atlanta police any further trouble. She promised that if the police would agree not to prosecute him she would never come to Atlanta again, but would make his home in Macon in the future. He had promised her him Allen's father, who was at the meeting today, and his wife and son had agreed to support him.

Captain Thompson agreed to submit to the agreement and let Allen have his liberty if Captain Hill would also do so. The Allens then approached the solicitor and he gave his consent that the case might be disposed of as they requested, but he will still hold the indictment and if Allen should ever become troublesome again he will be held.

It is probable that Allen will be released this week under this arrangement. He will not come to Atlanta, but will go to Macon where he will be met by his wife and where he will make his future home.

Allen's wife is quite a young woman and was only married to him a little over a year ago. The day after his marriage Allen flew into a violent fit of insanity and shot his thumb off. He fought the members of his family desperately, but strange to say he had refrained the following day without even a sharp being made against him and remained at liberty until his encounter with Patrolman Randall. He has given the Atlanta police no end of trouble.

THAT SAVANNAH BILL

Passed the House by an Almost Unanimous Vote.

IT LOOKED LIKE A HARD FIGHT
But When the Test Came Only Two Voted Against It.

MR. HOGAN WANTS AN INCOME TAX

The Senate Adjourns Out of Respect to the Memory of Dr. Jones—Other News of the Session.

The Chatham county registration bill passed the house yesterday by a practically unanimous vote, but it did not go through without quite a lively fight.

The bill was the special order for 11 o'clock. When it came up and was first put to a vote, there was very slight evidence of opposition, only two hands being raised against it. But, as there was no quorum fighting, a second call was made, and then Mr. Wilson, of Ware, submitted an amendment which provoked considerable discussion.

That amendment was the same which the committee sent up from Savannah had tried to put through the judiciary committee, and provided that the whole question should be submitted to a vote of the people.

That seemed fair enough on its face,
but the friends of the bill were very strongly opposed to it, for the very good reason that this would leave the solution of the question largely in the hands of the very men from whom they desired to be rid.

W. M. SEARS, Chairman.

Bills on trial.

The house passed the following bills:

Mr. Noland—Fixing the fees of witnesses for the state in criminal cases, when they reside out of the county, at $2 per day, and for fees for miles traveled in getting to the courthouse.

Mr. Calvin of Richmond—To provide for the appointment of a physician to the coroner in each county, having a population of 10,000 or more, who was paid $1000
a year.

Mr. Noland—Barrois—Authorizing the signing of judgments against sureties on bonds on condemnation, as in cases of appeal.

Mr. Osborne made a short talk for the bill, and Mr. Short, of Marion, a strong and forcible one in favor of the report of the committee, which was unanimously in favor of the bill.

Mr. Fleming and Mr. Boileau strongly urged the house to stick to the Montgomery delegation, especially as they were a unit on this matter, which was purely local in its nature.

Mr. McDonald—A bill to provide for the removal of obstructions of all streams in Gwinnett county.

Mr. Gerard—A bill to make all laws regulating insurance on cars apply to individuals doing an insurance business.

The bill by Mr. Ferguson to prescribe the manner in which tax returns shall be made on lands lying on county lines was lost, 82 to 17.

Passed by the Senate.

Mr. Lewis of Milton—to authorize the report of the committee on the Georgia reports from the 7th inst.

Mr. Bach—A bill to fix the liability of railroad companies for wages due employees and how they shall be paid.

Mr. Corp—To require tax collectors to keep an office in the courthouse.

In Executive Session.

The Senate held a short executive session, confirming Charles Goods Merer of the county court of Quitman, and A. H. Banks, to be judge of the city court of Lowndes.

New Bills introduced.

A Good Crop of New Measures in the Senate and House.

Under the rule of the house, yesterday was the last day for the introduction of new matter except of a local character.

That resulted in a number of new measures being brought out. Those introduced in the house were:

Mr. Boileau—McDuffie—To amend act
7, sec. 1, part 1, so as to pension confederate soldiers who were honorably discharged.

Mr. King of Fulton—To provide a method for the removal and disposal of convicts.

Mr. Stewart of Bainbridge—To amend the act incorporating the Shallan Banking Company.

Mr. Kinney of Clayton—To provide for the election of county commissioners at the same time and for the same term as ordinaries.

Mr. Roddenberry of Thomas—To make prize-fighting a misdemeanor.

Mr. Herndon of Troup—To prohibit the manufacture of intoxicating liquors in Troup.

Mr. Brent of Dawson—To require a bond of all justices of the peace and notaries
public.

The third section of the bill provided for the tax on making these returns; and that the tax collector shall assess the rate of tax on the incomes. The funds arising from this tax are to go to the common school fund.

The house defeated the bill of Mr. Fleming to provide for the admission of females to the State Normal college at Athens, the vote on it being 62 to 33.

When the bill came up, several speeches were made against it by Mr. Reagan, Mr.
A. H. Banks, and others, on the ground that they have the Milledgeville Normal and Industrial school for girls, and that it was sufficient.

Last summer female teachers were eligible for admission to Athens school, and when the classes there had it as their fear of this bill, that it does not legislative construction on the bill establishing the normal school will prevent the admission of women there, even though the school be able to secure from the Peabody fund some of the money that would be needed.

The bill very much regret there should be an apparent clash between this institution and the institution at Milledgeville. It is understood that they can be merged—and indeed, Mr. Thompson recommended that they be admitted to the normal classes at Mil-edgeville. This, however, will be strongly opposed by very many of the friends of that institution on the idea that it was created for the girls of Georgia, and should be for them.

Mr. Pearce of Houston—To amend section 16 of an act entitled an act to amend to revise and reconstitute the common school laws of Georgia, approved October 27, 1887,
as to provide additional qualifications for members of the board of education and county school commissioners.

Mr. Thompson of Morgan—To provide for the issuance of circulating notes by the state bank and banking institutions of the state based upon personal liability and to provide for the payment of said notes.

Mr. Thompson of Morgan—To recommend to the legislature that they be admitted to the normal classes at Mil-edgeville. This, however, will be strongly
opposed by very many of the friends of that
institution on the idea that it was created

A HEAVY DROP.

The New York Stock Market Broke Badly Yesterday.

THE INDUSTRIALS LEAD THE BREAK

Followed Closely by Northwest and C. B. & Q.—Cotton Sympathized and Breaks 6 to 7 Points—Wheat Holds Its Own.

NEW YORK. November 27.—The speculation on the stock exchange today was remarkable by reason of the strength manifested by the railroad list in the face of a very serious outturning of the values of the industrials. It was expected the provisions of the new tariff bill would be made public today and consequently the stock market was prepared for an uncertain future. The leading stocks at their offices; consultations with customers had been held to the end that orders should be explicit in view of the impending movement. The first unfavorable news that came was of the reduction of 50 per cent in the sugar tariff, and the fall of the country to dominate producers. It was felt that the market would sell the shares of the American Sugar Refining Company. Blocks of the stock were thrown upon the market at the constantly declining prices, and with no appreciable rally until a heavy break had been made shortly before 2 o'clock, at which time 300,000 shares of the stock were disposed of. The movement which was developed at the close figures, which resulted in a recovery of 3-4 per cent, 3-4 per cent of which was subsequently lost, making the decline on the day 6-3-4 per cent. In the railroad list, there was a fractional decline at the opening, but despite the slaughter of Sugar and Distilling and the generally unsold feeling in the industrial group, there was no break in the market in the railway. The bond market was irregular during the day, but closed firm. The leading changes are: Advances—Chicago and Eastern Illinois firsts, 6-1-2; Tennessee Coal and Iron firsts, Birmingham division, 4; Great Northern thirds and St. Paul fourths; 4; Detroit, Montreal and Toledo 3-1-2.

Government bonds strong. State bonds dull.

Money on call easy at 1 to 1 1-2, last loan 1-2, closed offered at 1-1-2 per cent; prime money at 1-1-2 to 4 to 4 1-2; sterling exchange dull with certain buyers in market bills at 485 to 482 to 483 for demand, and 483 to 483 to 484 for six days. Post rates 484 to 482 to 482. Commercial bills 484 to 482.

Been Rev. Isaac Belton's Practice.

THE SAD STORY OF HIS DOWNFALL

He Didn't Preach at Thankful Baptist Church Sunday Because He Was Locked Up—To Jail for Larceny.

Thankful Baptist church will have to get a new pastor.

Rev. Isaac Belton, the exceedingly distinguished looking shepherd of the flock that worships at this edifice, has a compulsory engagement with the courts which will probably occupy his attention and absorb his efforts for several weeks to come. And, even if the Rev. Isaac had a surplusage of time on his hands to dispose of as he willed, there are straight-faced members in the congregation at Thankful church who would seriously object to his disposing of it in that pulpit, or in giving spiritual consolation to the people of that flock. Such is the evanescence of a good man's reputation for goodness and spirituality!

Rev. Isaac is acutely clerical in appearance. He wears the regulation long black suit, cut high in the neck, and giving him an air of piety which is said to be in harmonious with his character. He has a countenance that beams with smiles and brotherly love, and for several years has been regarded as a power in his church.

Sunday he was unable to fill his appointment, and the clerk was forced to make the humiliating announcement that the Rev. Isaac was in the police station, but he hoped that the version of the Rev. Isaac would be found to be true, and the divine vindicated and justified; the victim of unworthy persecution would be with his congregation next Sunday.

But he will not, and, unfortunately, the Rev. Isaac cannot appear in the role of a martyr, justified. Yesterday afternoon he appeared before Recorder Calhoun. A day's incarceration had played sad havoc with his clerical appearance of ultra respectability. His collar was wilted, his black coat soiled, his copper colored face disfigured with two or three suspicious looking knots.

But the minister was undaunted. He said the Lord was on his side, and would pull him through, but he calculated without his host. Not even the eloquent plea he put up brought Judge Andy Calhoun to see the case from his point of view, and he was bound over to the superior court for larceny.

Last Saturday night, Belton went into Armstrong's dry goods store distributing tracts. He talked a minute or two with one of the clerks, and as he went out, the young man says, he deftly picked up a roll of jeans goods. The young man spied him, and he dropped it. Another clerk saw him, and picked up a suit of underwear, and upon being discovered in this he ran.

A lively chase was given, and for several minutes Belton circled through alleys and around houses to escape his pursuers. Patrolman Terry became interested in the chase, and at a very exciting point Belton leaped down a steep embankment, and bruised and hurt himself considerably.

He was unable to keep up his flight after his fall, and was easily captured. His captors discovered with horror that he was drinking, although he denied it indignantly. He was taken to police headquarters in a very dilapidated condition, and very much in need of repairs.

Two young men employed in Armstrong's dry goods store and Patrolman Terry stated these facts before the recorder yesterday afternoon, and Belton was read a general charge and bound over.

"Belton you are drinking, preaching and stealing," said the judge, "and that's not a good combination. I am going to stop you in your downward career right now. I'll bind you over for larceny from the house, then I'll take you to the police station, and command, Belton professed his innocence, and begged the judge to make no mistake. He was sent to jail, however, and his flock will miss him for a few weeks, at least.

Caution.

Imitations have been put upon the market so closely resembling Alcock's Porous Plasters as to be well calculated to deceive. It is, in general, apparent on that they come with Alcock's, for they are worse than worthless, inasmuch as they contain deleterious ingredients which are apt to cause serious injury. Remember that Alcock's are the only genuine porous plasters—the best external remedy ever produced; and when purchasing plasters do not ask for one but see that you get Alcock's Porous Plasters.

COMPLIMENT THE ARAGON.

A Near Compliment Which Is Fully Deserved and Appreciated.

The following letter from the secretary of the Christian Workers' convention which recently met in Atlanta will explain itself. It is a compliment worthily bestowed and duly appreciated as an evidence of Atlanta's excellent hotel facilities, which are such as to command themselves to all who visit Atlanta.

The chairman of the committee and myself desire personally to express our appreciation of the kindly attention by which your wants are met. We are very glad to have been associated in having one of the most beautiful hotels in the country. I do not see how it would be possible in any way to have it exceed the expense of the table which your company furnishes in this beautiful hotel.

Count it a favor to my friends and those interested to let me know throughout the country, to be able to recommend from personal experience such a hotel. Very truly,

JOHN C. COLLINS, Secretary.

The Best Overcoats

For
One Price

$10 | $18
$12 | $20
$15 | $22

Single or double breasted black, blue or gray Kersyes, Meltons, Beavers or Cheviots; satin or wool lined. Take the $20 Garment! It isn't a marked-down-from-a-higher-priced Coat. It's one of the demands of the hour. You try on the proper size, we'll do the rest—sell it to you. Long, loose, fashionable; curve of shoulder, dрапery of back and grace of lapels perfect. The hang is right. The cutter that produced it had skill and genius—$20 is absurdly little for such a splendid Coat. Such values lift our business above and beyond the reach of any possible competition.

Did You Ever

Enjoy a hot wafer bottle? They are a balm to people afflicted with cold feet. They cost so little in comparison to the good you get out of them. Besides, they are absolutely indispensable to every household. In sickness they relieve pains and cramps when nothing else will.

Another Thing

You want is something to cure that bad cold. The cough medicine I have will surely do it. Colds are prevalent in the city, and unless they are stopped may run into catarrh, bronchitis and consumption. The ambition of a "bad cold" is to make a consumptive out of you; stop it then—I have THE medicine that will do it.
